

TOWARDS A WORKLESS SOCIETY?

An Interdisciplinary Reflection on the Changing Concept of Work and its Rules in Contemporary Economies

International Conference

PLENARY SESSION #1 | Thursday 30th November 2023 | 2.30-4.30 pm

Venue: Centro Congressi Giovanni XXIII – SALA ALABASTRO

Viale Papa Giovanni XXIII 106, Bergamo (Italy)

TOWARDS A WORKLESS SOCIETY? THE PERSPECTIVE OF INSTITUTIONS, INTERNATIONAL STAKEHOLDERS, AND RESEARCH

Pietro Manzella (Università di Udine, ADAPT)

Some reflections on the ever-changing concept of work

Manuela Geleng (European Commission)

Are the machines taking over? Implications for the future of work, skills and training: an EU perspective

Viktorija Proskurovska (World Employment Confederation)

Work is an inextricable component of life

Cristina Mihes (International Labor Organization)

National reflections on ways to implement a universal labour guarantee in domestic law and practice in selected Central and Eastern European countries

Valerio De Stefano (Osgoode Hall Law School, York University)

Value of work and autonomy

Anja Meierkord (Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development)

Megatrends and their Impact on skill needs in the labour market: challenges and responses. A focus on adult learning systems

Scientific Organisation:

Margherita Roiatti (ADAPT)

